This Chronicle Sheet Grants Access to the Following:

Pathfinder Society rewards Game Masters who volunteer their time at local game stores and conventions. Whenever you GM a Pathfinder Society game after January 1 2026, check one box below. Whenever you GM a game at an RSP-supported location or event, instead check two boxes below. Whenever you GM a game at a convention of any size, instead check three boxes below. Quests and Bounties check one box regardless of where they are run. Running sanctioned content longer than a scenario (such as an Adventure Path volume) allows you to check three boxes upon completion and reporting of the adventure.

Draconic Friendship: You have worked closely with one of the dragons closely allied with the Pathfinder Society. The dragon has agreed to enter a pact. As the dragon is closely aligned with the Society, one of the terms of the pact is that you remain in good standing with the Pathfinder Society. The dragon will not choose to use your voice, unless specifically dictated to the GM in a future adventure.

Once you have marked the initial 6 boxes, you gain access to a rare item—the pact of the herald and host (Pathfinder Lost Omens Draconic Codex 226)—though you must still be level 6 or higher for the dragon to recognize your strength and actually make the pact. You must give tribute to the dragon equal to 250 gp, and the Breath of the Dragon activation may be used once per day. Should you lose your standing in the Society, you suffer the oathbreaker’s calamity as described in the pact. Choose your dragon’s type, which determines the relevant tradition and energy type; all future pacts that character obtains must use that choice, as well as any other pacts stemming from your copy of this boon.

You may check off 6 of the remaining boxes to grant another character (belonging to yourself or another player) access to the pact of the herald and host, subject to the same requirements and restrictions as above.
